

In a typical year, the 34 young people who make up our summer staff are the face of our organization, bringing environmental education to over 35,000 youth, teens and families. However, this has not been a typical year. In response to the pandemic, we moved our programs online, and our outstanding staff created Virtual Boston Harbor to help meet the needs of our 130 organizational partners. Instead of working directly with boatloads of people, we have created virtual programming to connect youth from our community partners to the Harbor under these difficult circumstances, and served as virtual Ambassadors to help keep our beaches safe and open by encouraging young people to follow social distancing guidelines to stop the social spread of COVID-19.
