

Together, we kept more than 260,000 people online – and counting!

Last year, as a thank you to our existing customers for their support during a difficult transition period, we created “Convert & Connect,” a device donation program to help our users make the long-anticipated transition to Sprint’s LTE service. Our top priority was ensuring that the 300,000 vulnerable Americans who relied on our Internet service through our community of schools, libraries, and nonprofits were not left without Internet access.

Convert & Connect was a great success!

In just 90 days, 73% of our existing users participated in our Convert & Connect donation program and received a free LTE device and our new $10/month, unlimited 4G LTE Internet service.

Our work is not finished. There are still too many schools, libraries, and nonprofits who lack sufficient broadband access to meet their needs. And 34 million Americans remain offline. Mobile Beacon remains committed to helping close this digital divide and ensure that every American has the opportunity to participate in our digital world.

What it took to keep 260,000 people connected in 90 days:
